Explanation and other important information

Your notice of assessment showed you had an amount owing. That amount was due on the day you received the notice. Our records show that you have not yet paid this amount.

If you do not pay your debt within 90 days from the date your notice of assessment or reassessment was sent to you or you do not file an objection, we may take legal action against you. For example, we may garnish your income or bank account or use any other means under the laws that apply to collect the amount you owe.

We charge compound daily interest at the set rate on any amount owing until the balance is paid in full. As of July 10, 2019, we calculated additional arrears interest of $32.11. This is included in the amount due of $5,295.29.

To avoid more interest charges and possible legal action against you, please pay now using one of the options listed in section "How do you pay?".

If you cannot pay the full amount you owe now, please call us to make a payment arrangement. For more information, go to section "Need more time to pay?".

If you paid your balance within the last two weeks, thank you and please disregard this notice. However, if you made your payment more than 15 days ago, please call us at 1-800-959-2018.
